Ray Phair posted an incredibly important message which seems to contain proof of the identity of Countess Ida.

I join in the congratulations. Now if we could only find out who the parents of Countess Ida were...

Indeed, Paul - William is stated by the same source to be King John's brother, while Ralph Bigod is specified only as William's & therefore one can assume their relationship must have been known as uterine.

I suppose there's a remote possibility that Winkelmann had found more on this, and that its import has been overlooked for the past 100 years, but unfortunately I don't have access to his work to check.
